

Our cartoon is about a true story which happened on May, 1st.

A 5 year old boy accidentally shot his 2 years old sister to death in southern Kentucky with a rifle he had received as a gift last year for his birthday, the authorities said. The children's mother had stepped out to the front porch in Burkesville for a few minutes on a Tuesday afternoon, and she heard the gun go off. The little girl, Caroline Sparks, was killed by a single shot to her chest fired by her brother, Kristian. The family had not realized a bullet had been left inside it.

We have chosen to represent this tragedy with the Simpson' family because we think that it's a funny and good way to deliver the message about gun violence in the U.S.A. So how long will we have to stand to such barbaric act? American deciders, do you realize that this problem makes families live a tragedy?

Don't touch
my truck!

OH MY GOD!
What did you do to
your sister Bart?

It's MY truck!
